A: Reviews And you're forgetting: They're not audiophile-grade headphones; they won't impress audiophiles. Some models lack drivers. They're not designed to give the ear a rest or to block out external noise. I personally own a pair of QuietComfort 35, which are well-designed, reasonably priced and as good or better than all of the other options listed above, (though there are many factors which determine quality, and there's no guarantee that the Quiet
